Copyright and Reproduction Guidelines [1]

We strongly support the use of information in this website to educate others (your colleagues, your patients, for a newsletter).

Patient Education Materials: The patient education materials in particular have been written and formatted specifically for printing to distribute in clinical practice. We do ask, however, that you include the following statement in any materials that you print, duplicate, and distribute:

This information was provided by Clinical Tools, Inc., and is copyrighted by Clinical Tools, Inc.

Proper citation is also required when referring to our content in a research paper or other project. Note that we strictly prohibit the reproduction for profit of any Clinical Tools, Inc., materials without prior approval from us. If you need such approval, send us a request through our feedback form. Please include the following information in your request:

- Name
- E-mail address
- Phone number
- Organization/institution
- Topics and pages that you would like to reproduce
- Who will receive the content
- How it will be distributed

Please do not proceed with reproduction or duplication until you receive a response.
